☐ Sexual Violence and Prevention (Title IX) Training (30 minutes)

It's important to complete this session at least 72 hours prior to NSO or before classes begin. This training helps you understand what sexual violence is, the effects that it can have, provides information to help you develop the skills necessary to promote and maintain healthy relationships, to reduce risk, and to support victims of sexual violence. The workshop provides real-life scenarios that help you understand what consent is and is not and how to prevent sexual violence. Visit our training page to complete the session.

☐ Online Readiness Assessment (10 – 15 minutes)

While most classes are offered in person, you may find yourself with the option of taking an online class. This assessment is meant to help you decide whether online classes are an appropriate mode of delivery to contribute to your education and direct you to additional resources. We won't block you from taking online classes, but we want to support you in taking the classes best-suited to your learning style. Take the assessment here.
